COOKIE POLICY

WHAT ARE COOKIES?

COOKIES are small pieces of data stored by the browser on your computer when you visit our website. We use COOKIES on our website.

WHAT IS THE PURPOSE OF COOKIES?

We use COOKIES to save your preferences and choices. You can reject COOKIES in your browser. The instructions how to change browser settings are usually found in the toolbar under "Help". Although you will still be able to visit the website, it is possible that without accepting some services or parts the website will not function properly. Rejecting COOKIES limits the use of our website and its services. With your permission, we store tracking COOKIES on your computer.

We use COOKIES to remember on which pages you have created your profile. This profile is not related to your name, address, email or other personal data.

DO COOKIES RECOGNISE ME?

No. COOKIES do not register your name, address, age, or any other personal data. They only remember your choices and interests according to your browsing history on our website.

FUNCTIONAL AND NON-FUNCTIONaL COOKIES

There are functional and non-functional COOKIES. Functional COOKIES are required for correct functioning of the website or to ensure that desired information is displayed sufficiently fast and precisely every time you visit our website. For example, you do not need to enter your details, specify your choice or change preferences every time you visit the website. Non-functional COOKIES inform us about the number of visitors to the website and how these visitors use our website. We can use this information to improve functionality of the website. This information automatically disappears as soon as you close your browser or is stored on the computer for up to 12 months after the last visit.

FUNCTIONAL COOKIES:

•Remember your registration details

•Guarantee the security of your registration details

•Guarantee uniformity during your visits

NON-FUNCTIONAL (ANALYTICAL) COOKIES:

•Track website visitors

•Register how visitors use the website

•Improve performance of the website

•Improve your user experience on the website

Important: Messages you send using Internet services can be intercepted on the network. Until the message arrives to us, we are unable to guarantee privacy.
